those products.

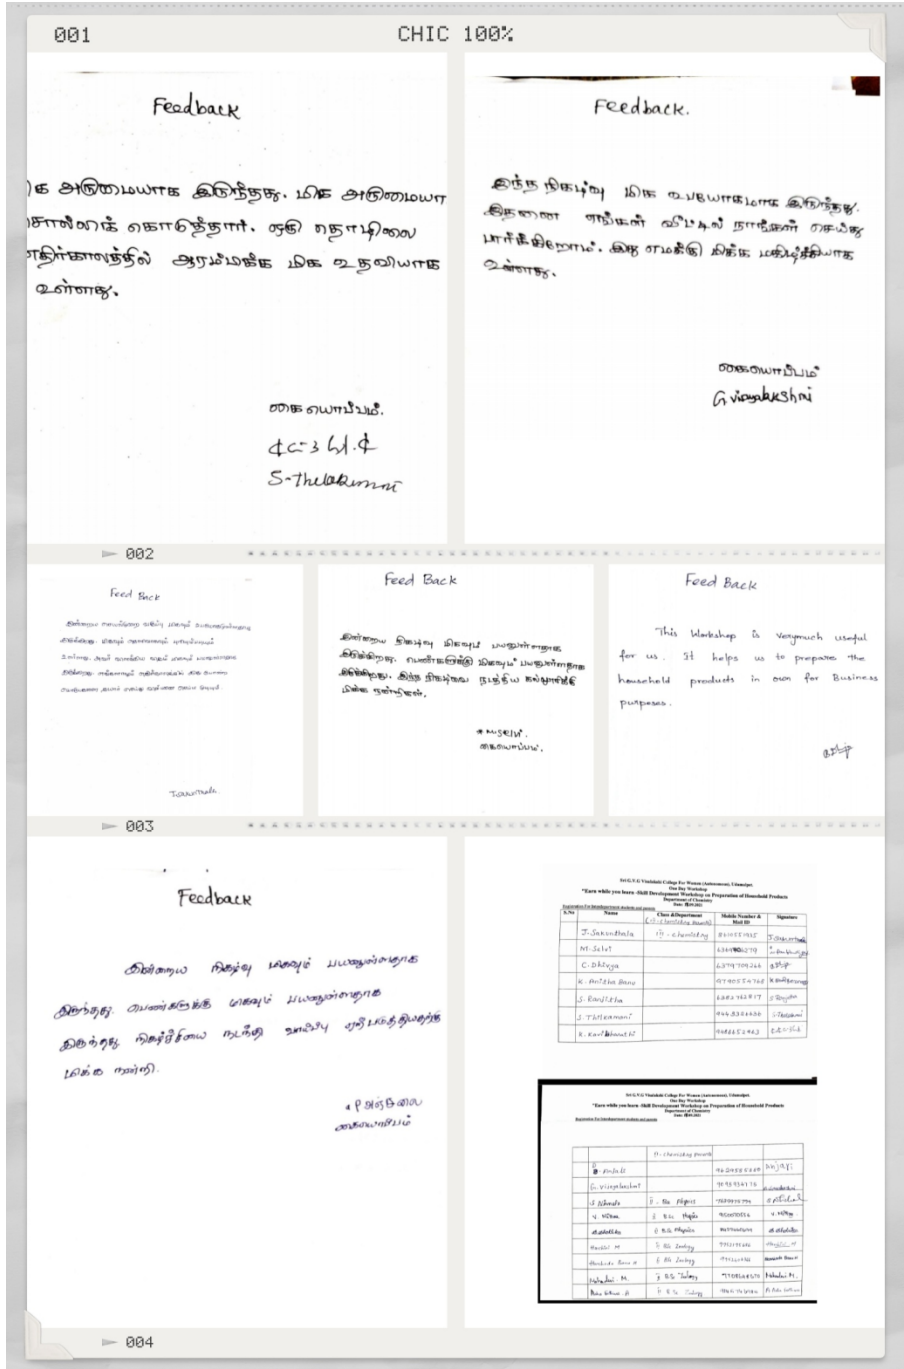

Around 60 students from BSc. Chemistry were benefited from this programme. Ten parents participated in the morning session. They got useful informations for starting business. Students of the zoology and physics departments participated in the afternoon session. Students were very eager to learn. They shined like stars and made many colourful products. This made the workshop more soulful with the positive vibes and extreme interests.

This workshop made a memorable day!

Feedback form results from students and parents.

Feedback from parents who attended the programme.

Parents and students take part enthusiastically. They learned many things with great interest and gave feedback that it is very beneficial. The programme came to the end with vote of thanks by Dr. E. Vaishnavi.

As an outcome of the programme all the household products prepared were exhibited for sale in "GVG Chemprenuer stall". This program motivated our students to become efficient entrepreneurs during this pandemic period and help to grow their entrepreneurship skills and manage the economic conditions of their families.
